In the Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 C.F.R. §1.83(a) because they fail to show an administrative element as part of an autonomous system (page 10, lines 26-30) as described in the specification and recited in Claims 6 and 16. The administrative elements could be, in fact, any of the components of FIGURE 1 and, accordingly, there is no deficiency in the current drawing set. In other embodiments, such an element could simply be software embedded in these elements or provided in its own separate enclosure.
